Market: Markham and the GTA · Platforms: Facebook, Instagram, LinkedIn, Google · Voice: British wit, understated, dry

P O S I T I O N I N G

Kevin is the antidote to the breathless GTA mortgage broker.
Understated in a market that rewards noise.

British background, dry wit, genuine expertise. His content does not shout. It is the post your feed did not know it needed. The one that actually says something.

The post your feed did not know it needed.

— THE LINE

Three pillars. Kevin and Felicia reverse mortgage series (the anchor). Kevin's distinct voice (the differentiator). Life insurance cross-sell content (the revenue play). Each channel does a different job. The voice is always recognizably Kevin.

THE ANCHOR SERIES

Kevin & Felicia. The most important content Kevin produces in 2026.

Weekly reverse mortgage education with Felicia (HEB partner). Fifty-two weeks. A full year of consistent, co-branded content that builds both Kevin's and Felicia's authority and positions Kevin as the go-to reverse mortgage broker in the GTA.

KEVIN & FELICIA

One mortgage. Two perspectives.

Kevin handles the mortgage structure side. Felicia handles the HEB and equity angle. Short-form video or graphic post. Kevin and Felicia in conversation or complementary perspectives.

Consistent visual treatment so the series is instantly recognizable in feed. Caption always includes a takeaway, not just a description of the video.

Cross-tagged. Posted same day. Approval timeline includes 5 business days for HEB.

YEAR ARC BY THEME

Q 1 · JAN TO MAR

Foundations

What is a reverse mortgage. Who qualifies. How it actually works.

Q 2 · APR TO JUN

Application stories

Real scenarios (anonymized). What the process actually looks like.

Q 3 · JUL TO SEP

Retirement integration

How reverse mortgages fit in the larger retirement picture.

Q 4 · OCT TO DEC

Estate planning

Family conversations. The questions adult children ask.

L I F E I N S U R A N C E . T H E R E V E N U E P L A Y

Kevin can cross-sell.
Monthly content that surfaces
the question most clients never think to ask.

POST ANGLES

- "Your mortgage lender does not care what happens to your family if you die. I do. Here is what mortgage protection actually looks like."
- "The gap between what the bank offers and what independent life insurance actually covers."
- "If you have bought a home in the last five years and do not have independent coverage, read this."
- "The conversation I have with every client after we close."

Tone. Direct without being alarmist. Kevin does not sell fear. He sells clarity. The dry wit can show up here too. "The bank's creditor insurance: a love story between you and fine print."

PLATFORM PRIORITY

- LinkedIn. The financial-advisor referral angle.
- Google. Search-targeted evergreen content. "Mortgage life insurance Ontario."
- Facebook. Client-facing human stories.

B R I T I S H W I T . T H E T E X T U R E

The British perspective on Canadian real estate. Natural, never forced.

Every two or three posts, Kevin's British voice shows up in tone and word choice, not in trying to make a joke.

- "As someone who grew up in a country with a much more sensible housing market, I find it interesting that..."
Observation about GTA real estate reality.
- Understated reactions to market news. "Well. That happened."
- Canadian mortgage culture vs UK. "Back home, the bank manager visited your house. Somehow the process here feels less personal."
- Self-deprecating. "I have been in Canada long enough to stop finding house prices surprising. It took about twelve years."

Rules. Never forced. If it is not naturally funny, it does not get the wit angle. The wit appears in tone and word choice, not in trying to make a joke.

G T A N E W C O M E R C O N T E N T

Kevin's British background gives him genuine empathy for newcomers.

Authentic, not performative. Monthly content for one of the highest newcomer populations in Canada. SEO-valuable, referral-generating.

- "When I moved to Canada, nobody explained the mortgage stress test to me. Here is what it is."
- "What newcomers to Canada need to know about qualifying for a mortgage. And what the banks will not tell you upfront."
- "The Canadian mortgage system is genuinely confusing if you are used to anything else. Let me translate."
- Specific newcomer programs. CMHC for newcomers. Credit history workarounds.

B O C K E V I N ' S S I G N A T U R E

The antidote to breathless rate commentary. Like a sane friend explaining what just happened.

The formula. "Let me explain what just happened as if I am talking to a sensible person." Then: what changed, what it means practically, one specific scenario for a GTA buyer. No alarm. No hype. Kevin's dry observation to close.

P L A T F O R M S T R A T E G Y

Four platforms.
Each one does a different job.

FACEBOOK

Community and personal

Reverse mortgage series (accessible version), newcomer content, life insurance human stories, light wit moments. Kevin's warmth shows most here.

INSTAGRAM

Personality and visual

Kevin and Felicia clips, wit content, shorter market takes. Reels for rate announcements. Sixty-second calm explainer.

LINKEDIN

Professional and referral

Full technical depth on reverse mortgages. Life insurance cross-sell professional angle. Newcomer content for referral partners.

GOOGLE

SEO and evergreen

"Reverse mortgage Toronto," "newcomer mortgage Ontario," "life insurance with mortgage" keyword targets. Long-form versions of LinkedIn content.

MONTHLY RHYTHM

Kevin & Felicia runs weekly. Everything else rotates around it.

The reverse mortgage series is additive, not substituting. It runs every week, on all platforms, all year. The four-week rotation below stacks on top.

SLOT	CONTENT
Weekly	Kevin & Felicia. Reverse mortgage post on all platforms. The anchor.
Week 1	Life insurance cross-sell content.
Week 2	British wit or personality post.
Week 3	Newcomer-focused content.
Week 4	Market or BoC update in Kevin's voice.

Co-branding protocol. Monthly planning call between Kevin, Felicia, and Stay Social to map the next four weeks. Content drafted by Stay Social, reviewed by both Kevin and Felicia before publish. Felicia and HEB posts must be approved by their own team before publish. Build five business days into the production timeline.

W H A T T H I S A V O I D S

A clear filter for what stays out.
This is what Kevin does not do.

- × Breathless GTA rate commentary. Hype headlines. Alarmism.
- × Forced British humour. If it is not naturally funny, it does not get the wit angle.
- × Selling fear. Kevin does not sell fear. He sells clarity.
- × Generic mortgage broker content. The voice has to be recognizably Kevin every time.
- × Performative empathy on newcomer content. Kevin's perspective is authentic, not strategic.
- × Reverse mortgage content that talks down to seniors or their families.

T H E F I L T E R

*Before posting, ask:
Does this sound like a sane friend explaining something?
If yes, post it. If no, rework it.*
