2026 CONTENT STRATEGY

NIKKI CAREW MORTGAGES · PREMIERE MORTGAGE CENTRE · ST. JOHN'S, NEWFOUNDLAND

Market: Newfoundland and Labrador · Platforms: Facebook (primary), Instagram · Voice: Unhurried, proud, personal · Twenty years of NL roots

POSITIONING

Nikki does not serve the Newfoundland market.
She is of it.

Twenty years of roots, relationships, and hard-won trust in a province where word-of-mouth is the only currency that matters. The 2026 strategy does not try to broadcast Nikki outward. It deepens the identity she already holds.

Every post should feel like it could only come from one person, in one province.

The enemy. Generic Canadian broker content. No "five tips for first-time buyers" that could apply to anyone in Calgary or Kitchener. Every piece is anchored to Newfoundland. The towns, the culture, the particular pride of owning something here.

— THE TAGLINE

T H E   M O N T H L Y   A N C H O R

Built on Here.

The connection between NL identity and homeownership.

Monthly anchor series. What it actually means to own in Newfoundland, not just financially but culturally. This is not about real estate metrics. It is about why people stay, why people come back, what putting down roots in NL means to a Newfoundlander.

POST ANGLES

- "Most of my clients did not move here for the housing prices. They stayed for everything else."
- Coming-home stories. Buyers who left for the mainland and returned.
- Small-community homeownership. Gander, Corner Brook, Clarenville vs St. John's. The different weight of the word "home."
- NL heritage properties. Older homes, character, what buyers are actually choosing.

Tone. Unhurried, proud, personal. Not marketing copy. Nikki's actual voice.

The content anchor of the year.

Epilepsy awareness. A person Nikki loves. A day that carries real weight. Purple Day is not a campaign moment. It is the centre of gravity in the 2026 calendar.

THE THREE-ACT ARC

M A R 1 7 T O 2 5

Lead-Up

Week before: Nikki introduces Purple Day. What it is, why epilepsy awareness matters, gentle forward reference to her personal connection. No full story yet.

Day before (Mar 25):

"Tomorrow I wear purple for someone specific. I'll tell you about her."

M A R C H 2 6

The Main Post

Priya's story, in Nikki's voice. Not a press release. Not a cause campaign. A person talking about someone she loves and why this day matters.

Authentic over polished.
Written by Nikki or shaped closely from her words.

M A R 2 7 T O A P R

Follow-Through

Share engagement.
Acknowledge the community response.

Early April: "The response to Purple Day reminded me why I do this work in this place."

The close. The main post ends with "If not me, then who?" Here it is not a call-to-action. It is a statement of why she does anything she does.

PLATFORM

Both Facebook and Instagram. Facebook gets the full story. Instagram gets an edited version with a strong visual (purple palette, photo of Nikki if possible) and the key paragraph in caption.

THE BRAND'S HEARTBEAT

"If not me, then who?" Use sparingly. Keep it sacred.

This line is the brand's heartbeat. It is used sparingly so it retains weight. A line that closes every post would not survive the year. A line that closes only the right posts becomes the thing people remember.

WHEN THE LINE IS EARNED

"If not me, then who?"

The line must be earned by the post's content. It is not a sign-off. It is a statement.

WHEN TO USE IT

- Always. Closes Purple Day content. Every year.
- Advocacy moments. Posts where Nikki is advocating for a client type who is underserved or overlooked.
- Community stepping-up. Occasional community posts where Nikki is stepping up for something in NL.

WHEN NOT TO USE IT

- × Never as a generic sign-off.
- × Never on routine market updates or educational posts.
- × Never to make a post feel more important than it actually is.
- × If you have to ask whether the post has earned the line, it has not.

T W E N T Y   Y E A R   M I L E S T O N E

Do not make it a brag. Make it a reflection.

The milestone is the lens, not the subject. "Twenty years means I have sat across the table from a lot of first-time buyers who are now refinancing their third property." It is about what she has witnessed, not what she has achieved.

- Client milestones (anonymized). The buyers who became repeat clients.
- NL market changes she has lived through. What has changed, what has stayed the same.
- Q2 series. Not a single anniversary post. A series of reflections through the year.

N L   M A R K E T   C O N T E N T

Monthly. Always through the NL lens.

- St. John's market conditions. Prices, inventory, buyer competition.
- Smaller NL communities. What buyers face in CBN, Gander, Clarendville.
- NL-specific provincial programs. First-time buyer incentives, rural programs.
- BoC rate decisions filtered through NL reality. "Here is what this means if you are buying in St. John's right now."

Language note. Authentically Newfoundland. "Buddy," regional references where natural, NL cultural touchstones. Not performed. Just not scrubbed of regional identity the way most broker content is.

PLATFORM APPROACH

Two platforms. One Newfoundland voice.

FACEBOOK · PRIMARY

Where NL community lives

NL demographic skews older on FB.
Community storytelling, full Purple Day content, local market updates, longer-form reflections. Organic reach through shares in NL community groups.

INSTAGRAM · VISUAL

Visual complement

Shorter captions pulling from FB content. St. John's imagery, NL landscapes, lifestyle.
Hashtag strategy: #NLRealEstate, #NewfoundlandMortgages, #StayLocal. Not generic Canadian tags.

|        |                                                       |
|--------|-------------------------------------------------------|
| Week 1 | Built on Here · NL market update.                     |
| Week 2 | Client story or educational. NL-specific programs.    |
| Week 3 | Community, cause, or values post.                     |
| Week 4 | "If not me" moment. Advocacy or milestone reflection. |

March is different. Purple Day dominates weeks three and four. Everything else lightens to support it.

A clear filter for what stays out.

This is what Nikki does not do.

- × Generic Canadian broker content that could come from anywhere.
- × "Five tips for first-time buyers" applicable to Calgary or Kitchener.
- × Marketing copy. The voice has to sound like Nikki actually talking.
- × Performed Newfoundland. "Buddy" lands when natural, not when forced.
- × Using "If not me, then who?" as a sign-off. The line must be earned.
- × Twenty-year milestone as a brag. Always a reflection.

Could this post come from anywhere else in Canada?
