THE ONTARIO SPECIALIST FOR COMPLEX DEALS

PORT PERRY · KAWARTHA · DURHAM · GTA

PREPARED BY STAY SOCIAL

CAMPAIGN PHILOSOPHY

The email a Realtor saves.

Danny's email is the specialist's letter. One topic, explored with the depth that only a condition-free, FHSA, and reverse mortgage specialist can bring. Not a newsletter, not a market roundup. A single piece of expertise that makes the reader smarter about a specific mortgage decision.

Written for Port Perry and Kawartha buyers who want plain English, not jargon. Rocky makes occasional appearances. He does not review the email before it goes out. He has questions, though.

THE STANDARD

*If a generalist broker could have written this email, Danny doesn't send it.*

Audience & Send Profile

From: Danny Bell · Mortgage Broker · Premiere Mortgage Centre

Audience: Past clients, referral partners (Realtors, financial planners), serious buyers across Port Perry, Kawartha, Durham, and the GTA.

Cadence: Twice monthly (1st and 15th), with BoC-triggered bonus sends within 24 hours of major announcements.

CTA rotation: Phone for ready-to-act, website for educational. One per email. Never both.

Coordination With Social

Email content complements but never duplicates the Facebook, LinkedIn, and Google posts from the same week. Every BoC bonus send returns to the condition-free lens. The specialist authority is the through-line across every channel.

THE FORMAT

A specialist's letter from Port Perry.

Specialist-level. Specific. Plain English. Every email is one topic, fully explored. The depth a generalist broker can't offer, written so a Kawartha buyer can read it at the kitchen table.

SUBJECT	Specialist-level. Plain English. Six to eight words. No "Monthly Update." The kind of subject line that names the topic clearly enough a Realtor saves it.
OPENING	One sentence that names the problem. No generic salutations. The reader knows what this email is about by the end of line one.
THE VIEW	Two hundred to three hundred words. One scenario, fully explored. Real Port Perry, Kawartha, or Durham numbers. The depth that proves Danny actually closes these deals.
THE ANGLE	What the specialist focus means for this exact situation. Condition-free mechanics. FHSA stacking math. Reverse mortgage opportunity framing. The reason a generalist can't write this email.
CTA	One action. Phone (289-200-9061) for ready-to-act. Website (strictly-business.ca) for educational. Rotated across the campaign. Never both in a single send.
SIGN-OFF	"— Danny" followed by the strictly-business.ca footer and the Port Perry line.

Rocky in Email

- Rocky appears in email two to three times across the year. Never forced.
- Year-end: "Rocky supervised every closing." Post-BoC: "Rocky's take." Light opener: "Rocky has reviewed this email. He has questions."
- Warmth without undermining the specialist authority. Rocky is positioning, not gimmick.

WHAT THESE EMAILS NEVER DO

The guardrails. Strict.

The list of things these emails refuse to do is as important as what they do. Anything in this list pulls Danny's brand away from the specialist authority that defines it.

- ✗ Read like a generic mortgage newsletter any Ontario broker could send.
- ✗ Lead with rate comparison charts without Danny's interpretation layered on top.
- ✗ Use "best rate" or urgency language to push a send.
- ✗ Include motivational real estate quotes or aspirational fluff.
- ✗ Bank-bash or run direct competitor comparisons.
- ✗ Sound like a corporate bank's marketing email.
- ✗ Use Rocky for serious content or as the punchline of a send.
- ✗ Mix two CTAs in a single email. One action per send. Always.

THE FILTER

Before any send goes out, the question is the same. Could a generalist broker have written this? If yes, it doesn't go.

BoC-Triggered Bonus Emails

When a major rate announcement lands, a bonus email follows within twenty-four hours. Always through the condition-free lens. When rates move, conditions become more important, not less. Never more than three emails in a single month, even during heavy BoC weeks.

Straight talk. Smart mortgages.

*Twice a month. Specialist authority. Local roots. The complex deals, done right.
