The email your Burlington neighbour
actually wants to read.

TWICE MONTHLY · 1ST & 15TH

CAMPAIGN PHILOSOPHY

The email a Burlington buyer opens because it's actually about Burlington.

Most mortgage emails could be sent by any broker in any city. Kirk's can't. Every send is Burlington. Real neighbourhoods, real price points, real commuter math. A first-time buyer who reads these for six months should feel ready to buy in Aldershot, downtown, or north Burlington. A past client should feel the smartest mortgage guy in town is still in their corner.

Light wit welcome. Stiff is not. The voice is Kirk talking, not a brokerage sending a template.

THE STANDARD

If a generic GTA broker could have sent this email, Kirk doesn't send it.

Audience & Send Profile

From: Kirk Eaton. Audience: First-time buyers researching Burlington, past clients, referral partners, and commuter prospects from Toronto or Mississauga.

Cadence: Twice monthly, 1st and 15th. BoC announcements merge into the calendar when adjacent to a send date. Mid-month BoC triggers a bonus send within 24 hours. Never more than three sends in a single month.

CTA rotation: Phone (ready-to-talk) or website (educational). One per email. Never both. Email address is never included in marketing sends.

Coordination With Social

Email content complements but never duplicates social posts. The Burlington Buyer social series and the email calendar reinforce each other. A subscriber who also follows on Facebook should get two distinct things, never the same post twice.

THE FORMAT

A note from the guy who knows the city.

First-person. Burlington lens on every send. Approachable expert. Light wit when the topic earns it. Never templated, never stiff.

SUBJECT	Burlington-specific. Plain English. A touch of personality. Six to eight words. No "Monthly Update," no clickbait, no all-caps urgency.
OPENING	The Burlington reality. One sentence that names the situation a Burlington buyer or owner is actually in this week.
THE VIEW	200 to 300 words. One topic, Burlington lens. Real neighbourhoods (Aldershot, downtown, north Burlington). Real price points ($500K to $700K for first-time range). Numbers when they matter.
KIRK ANGLE	What nearly 20 years sees here. The part a Google search wouldn't give you. The pattern, the nuance, the trap.
CTA	One action. Phone if ready to talk. Website if learning. Rotated across the campaign. Never both in a single email.
SIGN-OFF	"— Kirk" followed by Eaton Mortgage Group footer with phone and website. No email address in marketing sends.

Subject Line Rules

- Burlington-specific when possible. The city is the differentiator.
- Plain English. Skip the jargon, skip the urgency.
- Six to eight words. Sentence case, not title case.

Sample Subject Lines

- "What a first-time buyer can actually afford in Burlington"
- "The GO Train question every Burlington buyer asks"
- "FHSA: the program Burlington buyers keep missing"

BoC Protocol

When a Bank of Canada announcement lands near a scheduled send, the send becomes the BoC response. Burlington first-time buyer lens, purchasing power shift in Burlington dollars, stress test in plain English. Mid-month BoC triggers a bonus email within 24 hours. Never more than three sends in a single month, even in a heavy news cycle.

Segmentation

Start with one list. Segment when volume supports it. First-time buyer prospects get the education-heavy thread. Past clients get the renewal and market thread. Realtor partners get Burlington market intel and pre-approval workflow notes. Commuter prospects get the positioning and lifestyle thread.

WHAT THESE EMAILS NEVER DO

The guardrails. Hyperlocal.

The list of things these emails refuse to do is as important as what they do.

- Sound like they could have been sent by any GTA broker.
- Position Burlington as the cheaper Toronto alternative.
- Lean on national headlines without translating to a Burlington street.
- Hide or minimize the Mortgage Agent designation. Kirk leans in.
- Use jargon without an immediate plain-English translation.
- Print Kirk's email address. Marketing sends carry phone and website only.
- Force humour. Wit serves the content, never replaces it.
- Punch at other agents or brokers.
- Use #PremiereMortgage or a variation. #ChoosePremiere is the brokerage hashtag.

The email that makes a Burlington buyer feel like they found exactly who they were looking for.

The Filter

Before every send: Could any GTA broker have written this email? If yes, it doesn't go. Burlington is the differentiator. The street name, the price point, the commuter math, the local fall market read. That's the email.

Title Discipline

Kirk is always introduced as Mortgage Agent. Never Broker. The designation precision is part of the trust story. The Aug 1 send leans directly into it.

Burlington is the destination. Not the compromise.

*Hyperlocal mortgage writing from the Burlington Mortgage Guy.
Real neighbourhoods, real numbers, real commuter math. The kind of email a Burlington first-time buyer actually finishes reading.*
