P O S I T I O N I N G

Craig is not a volume broker.
He is a 25-year advisor who handles the decisions that keep people up at night.

Complex purchases. Self-employment income. Investment properties. Renewals with real stakes. The content reflects that. No clickbait. No "5 tips for first-time buyers." Every post earns attention by being genuinely useful to someone making a serious financial decision.

— THE ANCHOR

C O N T E N T P I L L A R S — T H E M I X

Four pillars, weighted toward authority and expertise.

Education is the largest pillar, not a supporting one. Market intelligence keeps the feed timely. Case stories and personal context fill in the human side without diluting the advisor voice.

PILLAR	SHARE	RATIONALE
Authority & Education	45%	Craig's primary value is expertise. This is the largest pillar, not a supporting one.
Market Intelligence	25%	Dartmouth-first, Halifax and broader NS as context. Rates, BoC, real conditions on the ground.
Social Proof & Case Stories	15%	Anonymized complexity wins. "Client came to me after their bank said no."
Personal · Behind the Advice	15%	25 years of experience is a story. Humanize without casualizing.

The Full Picture.

LinkedIn primary · adapted for Facebook

The recurring content franchise that defines the Craig Spicer voice. Each post corrects a widely-held mortgage misconception. Not "did you know" content. A direct, confident reframe.

A monthly long-form post that takes one widely-held mortgage misconception and reframes it from the advisor's perspective. The post that people screenshot and send to a friend.

EXAMPLE TOPICS

- "Pre-approval doesn't mean what most people think it means."
- "Your rate is not your mortgage. Here's what actually matters."
- "Why self-employed clients should stop apologizing for their income structure."

FORMAT

Three to four paragraphs, no listicles, ends with a clear takeaway. Confident, calm, direct.

BANK OF CANADA — SAME-DAY REACTION

No hedging. No "it depends." The clear read, same day.

Craig posts same-day on BoC announcement days. He gives the Dartmouth and Halifax homeowner the clear read, and that consistency is what builds the reputation as the broker who doesn't waste people's time.

THE CRAIG BOC READ — THREE QUESTIONS EVERY REACTION POST ANSWERS

- What this means for purchases closing in 60 days
- What it means for renewals coming up
- What Craig would tell a client who called him right now

THE STANDARD

Clear over clever. Definite over diplomatic. A Dartmouth or Halifax homeowner reading this should know exactly what to do next, without having to interpret advisor-speak.

Four platforms, four roles.

LinkedIn anchors authority and referral reach. Instagram delivers visual authority. Facebook reaches the demographic actually buying their second and third property. Google captures the moment of search.

LINKEDIN

Referral partners, HNW

"The Full Picture" series lives here. Realtors, lawyers, financial planners. Craig is a resource for professionals who need to refer with confidence.

INSTAGRAM

Visual authority

Clean graphics with data points, short-form takes on market conditions, occasional Reels where Craig speaks direct to camera for 60 seconds. No lifestyle fluff.

FACEBOOK

Community credibility

BoC reactions, case stories (anonymized), local Dartmouth and Halifax market commentary. Where the 40 to 55 demographic buying their second or third property still lives.

GOOGLE

SEO, local trust

Short, keyword-anchored posts (Dartmouth mortgage broker, Halifax mortgage broker, self-employed mortgage NS). Updated seasonally with market context.

Three concentric circles, with Dartmouth at the centre.

Craig operates from Dartmouth, serves Halifax and the broader HRM, and reads the wider Nova Scotia market. The content reflects that local reality without ever being parochial.

The local layer Craig brings to every post. The Dartmouth-first lens is not a tag added at the end. It is the filter applied from the start. Atlantic Canadians need an advisor who reads their market, not a national playbook applied locally.

LOCAL REALITIES

- Dartmouth's distinct market dynamics. Different buyer profile from peninsula Halifax.
- HRM cross-bridge realities. How Dartmouth and Halifax markets actually relate.
- How the Halifax-area rental market affects investment mortgage decisions.
- CMHC quirks in NS lower-price-point markets.
- Atlantic Canada banking realities that don't apply in Toronto or Vancouver.

T H E D I F F E R E N T I A T O R — R A T E I S O
N E N U M B E R

The gap between a volume brokerage and an advisory practice.

Craig's content makes that gap visible. The rate is one answer to one question. The other numbers are the ones that decide whether a mortgage works for the next five years.

*The rate is one number.
Here's every other number that matters.*

— THE LINE

Renewal timing, penalty structure, prepayment privileges, portability, stress test thresholds, lender flexibility on income documentation. These are the numbers that decide whether a mortgage works for the next five years or fights you the whole way. The content makes that distinction the standard, not an exception.

W H A T T H I S S T R A T E G Y A V O I D S

What Craig doesn't post is as important as what he does.

The decisions about what not to post are as important as the content plan itself. These are the patterns that would dilute the advisor voice and pull Craig into volume-broker territory.

OFF-BRAND FOR CRAIG

- ✗ Generic "homeownership tips" that could apply anywhere in the country
- ✗ Motivational real estate quotes
- ✗ Personal life content, family, hobbies, that doesn't connect to advisory work
- ✗ Anything that sounds like it came from a bank's marketing department
- ✗ Rate comparison charts without Craig's interpretation layered on top
- ✗ First-time buyer content as the main thrust. That's not Craig's lane.

THE FILTER

Before any post goes out, the question is the same. Does this read like a 25-year advisor speaking, or could any broker have posted it? If it's the second one, it doesn't go.
